

Here are a very few pieces of work I did while at Wolverhampton Polytechnic; 1972 – 1975. I was doing a three dimensional course, majoring in ceramics; however, while at college I discovered fibre and weaving and spent the last two years experimenting with combining the two media, increasingly using more fibre than clay.

Materials: Clay
Size: each bowl approx 30cm across

Materials: Clay
Size: 45cm high x 45cm wide

Materials: Clay
Size: 50cm high x 50cm, wide

Materials: Clay
Size. Large piece 50cm high x 50cm wide. Small pieces 20cm high x 20cm wide

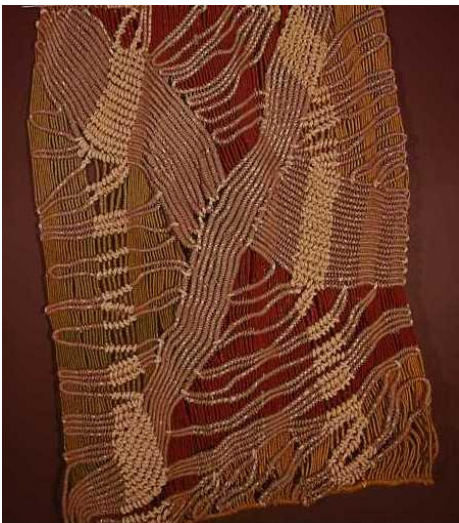

Materials: Clay inner piece. Sisal and jute fibres.
Size: approx. 250cm high x 180cm wide

Materials: Dyed linen string. Ceramic globes suspended within
Size: 250cm high x 60cm wide

Materials: Dyed soft jute and linen fibres
Size: 250cm high x 80cm wide

Materials: Dyed jute and sisal string and rope
Size: 220cm high x 140cm wide

Materials: Dyed jute and cotton fibre. Ceramic discs woven in.
Size: Each side 200cm high x 250cm wide.

Materials: Horsehair and dyed sisal fibre
Size: 350cm high x 185cm wide